<sup>1</sup>This degree is designed to facilitate smooth transfer to a four-year institution for the completion of a baccalaureate degree in music performance.

<sup>2</sup>Students will need to complete additional general education requirements in humanities and social and behavioral sciences of the institution to which they transfer. The reduced credits in general education enable students to complete the required sequences of music courses during their first two years, which replicates the distribution of general education in the four-year institutions.

<sup>3</sup>Students should consult the Transfer Center regarding transferability of elective courses.

Faculty are available during scheduled office hours to advise music students.

Music Faculty: Godwin Chou, Andy Hoeffe, Albert Jackson.

South Suburban College is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

**Note: All full-time transfer students are required to take OCS 121.

Developmental courses do not count towards degree.

<sup>4</sup>Less than 50% of total degree credit hours may be taken in an on-line format when on-line courses are available.
